USFIA CURRENCY FUND

According to US Bill No. 129, which was approved by California Government on June 28th 2014, digital currency, points, coupons, gem coins and all other objects of monetary value do not violate the law when they are used for purchase of goods and services or transmission payments.

USFIA currency fund issued Gem Coin has its internal value, which is supported by AFG gem mines all over the world. It will be circulated worldwide and it was officially issued to the public starting September 1st 2014.

Gem Coins are majorly circulated among jewelry and financial industries. It has a circulated massively. Buyers receive an equivalent amount of Gem Coins based on the amount spent on jewelries. (For example: for a $10,000 USD investment, the buyer will receive $10,000 worth of jewelry and will $5,000 USD worth of Gem Coins.) USFIA currency fund belongs to AFG Inc. It's values are fully supported and backed by AFG Inc.

The fund belongs to AFG (Alliance Financial Group) Inc. It was founded in Delaware back in 2002 with its headquarters in Los Angeles, CA. Some of the investments of AFG Inc. are real estates funds (REIT), real estate, mines (gemstones), auctions, IT, biotechnology, and aerospace equipment.

AFG Inc. has more than 50 billion USD worth of assets worldwide. The company has over 2 million users world-wide, and 3,000 jewelry franchises.

Gem Coins will be on the marketing starting September 1st 2014 with the starting price at 0.05 USD. Back in 2009, the starting price of Bit Coins were 0.06 USD and it reached its highest peak at 979.45 USD, which is 16257 times more than the starting price.

About Gem Coin:

Virtual currency is not a traditional currency; it can only realize its value when applied in the real world. Virtual currency is tradable, and can be used to purchase merchandise as well as services, with Assembly Bill "AB 129" being passed in the State of California, virtual currency now becomes a legal method of payment.

Virtual currencies are divided into the following categories:

1. Internet based Digital Currency such as Bitcoin
2. Merchant Currency issued by merchants such as credits, points, coupons, etc.

Both Digital Currency and Merchant Currency have their inherent limitations. First of all, Digital Currency has no intrinsic value, but is simply a packet of computer codes, and it can only become currency when accepted by both transacting parties, nevertheless, the safety issue surrounding Digital Currency has always been questioned. Merchant Currency has intrinsic value built in by the merchant, but can only be used to purchase merchandise and or services designated by these same merchants. Whichever one an individual decides to use Digital Currency or Merchant Currency, the amount of users determines their "currency" status.

Gem Coin is issued and backed by USFIA Inc, and is a brand new generation of virtual currency, which is a result generated by a New Financial Platform. Without the inherent limitations of traditional virtual currencies, Gem Coin has LIMITLESS POTENTIAL in terms of acceptability and appreciation by USFIA's expanding Global Network.

Gem Coin is "ONE OF THE ONLY" virtual currencies with intrinsic value. The value is supported by USFIA's Gemstone Mines, which are located throughout the world, and the value will never depreciate ---- because it is back by Precious Rare Gemstones. Gem Coin currently has a wide circulation through USFIA's International Membership Base and Financial Centers. USFIA has around $50 billion in assets through its businesses all over the world; these areas include North America, South America, Europe, Asia, and Australia. USFIA has more than 20 million active members and more than 3,000 Financial Centers as of the third quarter 2014.

All of these conditions create an unbeatable market foundation for the value of Gem Coin! Bitcoin's value from $0.06 in the first year of its release "2009" to a maximum value point of $979.45. It has become 16,257 times greater than the release price. Bitcoin does not have any intrinsic value "in itself".

There is no doubt that USFIA's Gem Coin will become as successful, and maybe even more successful than that Bitcoin.
